
Thresholds froze on separate calibration hosts. Recovery excludes matches already present in original data.
Inverted controls measure alert behavior; they do not estimate the survey false-positive rate.